

Advertising Terms and Conditions

- (1) Nikkei retains at its absolute discretion all rights to determine whether to accept or refuse any advertisement requested for insertion in the Nikkei Asian Review.
- (2) Nikkei determines whether or not to publish/display any advertisement based on its own Advertising Code. Advertisers with no prior advertising history with Nikkei are required to clear a procedure stipulated by Nikkei. Nikkei may request submission of required documents. Please contact us for details.
- (3) Nikkei has no obligation to explain the reason(s) for its refusal to consent to publish/display any advertisement.
- (4) Nikkei bears no responsibility whatsoever for the contents of advertisements published/displayed on Nikkei Asian Review. The advertiser bears all responsibility for the contents of any advertisements, including any damage to Nikkei resulting from the insertion of such advertisements.
- (5) To clearly identify an entity that bears responsibility for any advertisements published/displayed in the Nikkei Asian Review, the official full company name, address, and telephone number of the advertiser must be explicitly included within the advertisement. However, when an abbreviated name or brand name is generally well known, the official full company name can be omitted, and also depending on the purpose of the advertisement, the address and telephone number may be omitted.
- (6) The contents and purpose of all advertisements must be clearly and accurately given. Ambiguous intent or contents that cannot be understood by the general reader will not be accepted. As a general rule, English is the language to be used on advertising material.
- (7) Advertisements published/displayed in the Nikkei Asian Review must not infringe on basic human rights. Furthermore, they must not contain expressions or contents that promote such expressions.

■ General precautions and Disclaimers of Warranties

- (1) Advertising products that guarantee impressions will not guarantee delivery on every day during the publication period or guarantee equally divided delivery by day or time.
- (2) As a general rule, the publication of advertisements will start at 0 AM (JST) of the first day of the publication period. In the unlikely event that there is a defect in the displaying of advertisements, work to amend this will be taken out on the next business day. Nikkei is exempted from responsibility of defects during this period.
- (3) Unless stated otherwise in a sales sheet, standard data reports will include impressions, number of clicks, and click through rates. Screenshots of published advertisements will not be provided.
- (4) For the purpose of improving usability and services for advertisers, Nikkei may conduct researches regarding published creative material.
- (5) Please contact us for details regarding third party delivery.
- (6) Platform dependent characters may not display correctly
- (7) If the background of creative material is white, it is required to add a border. If the border between content and creative material is not clear, Nikkei may ask for it to be amended.
